offline Joined: Thu Mar 17, 2011 3:40 pm Posts: 41	We've started up The Fall Line again, with a staff of eager editors. We're looking for articles about fly fishing, fly tying, etc. for the next issue, scheduled for this April. We plan to publish the newsletter every 3 months for now, and will focus on recent trips and events as well as what's coming in the next 3 months. Expect some information on shad, of course, as well as stripers and smallies. All these and more will be active in the April-May-June timeframe. I have excellent articles from Art Reynolds (Trout Fishing in Shenandoah National Park) and Jim Covais (Fly Tying Day at Gander Mountain) so far - a great start! So, if you have a fishy story to tell, a favorite pattern to share, a useful fly casting or fly tying technique, or anything else related to fly fishing - please send it to me! A special thanks to Chris Kowlaski for serving as our recent editor-in-chief. Please note that it takes several of us to do what he did on his own. He's now overcome with the happy duties of being a new Dad while balancing job, home, and who knows what else. Thanks Chris! Hope you and Becky have time to get out soon for really important things - like fishing!

CWO4 Miller was a decorated Vietnam Vet, but most of us knew Bob as a warrior of a different sort. ALS - Lou Gehrig's Disease may have taken Bob, but it didn't beat him. Even in it's latter stages it didn't deter Bob from single handedly publishing our club newsletter. We thank him for the "Fall Line" newsletter - We'll miss him as a club member - We will always remember his strength, and passion for life. Sail on, Bob
